Welcome!

We would like to invite you to San Diego for our Innovations in Pediatric Heart Failure Symposium. This state-of-the-art, interactive program is specifically designed for those involved in the care of patients with pediatric heart disease including pediatric cardiologists, surgeons, intensivists, nurses, and other allied health professionals. Nationally recognized faculty members will cover challenging heart failure topics related to:

- Cardiomyopathies
- End stage congenital heart disease
- Heart transplantation
- Ventricular assist devices
- Intervventional cardiology
- Cardiac ICU management
- Nursing care
- Genomics
- Cardiac imaging
- Pharmacotherapeutics
- Ethics and end-of-life care
- Electrophysiology and more...

Our focus will be on innovation, and as such, the conference format will be unique! There will be interactive sessions that are case-based and dependent on audience participation. Expert panels will be assembled to help answer the difficult management questions the clinician faces in their practice. Didactic sessions will be limited to short PowerPoint presentations. Workshops will be available to provide hands-on training for trainees, nurses and junior faculty members.

Objectives

Upon the completion of this course, you should be able to:

- Evaluate and critique the medical management of pediatric patients with various forms of cardiomyopathy.
- Identify advantages and limitations of mechanical circulatory support devices for pediatric patients.
- Foster collaborative projects in research that will lead to innovative therapeutic interventions for children with heart failure.
- Address psychosocial issues associated with chronic heart failure in children.
